Item 4. Other Business Activities

Your adviser may also be employed in an investment related business or occupation, including if the employee is registered or has an application pending to register as a broker-dealer, registered broker-dealer representative, futures commission merchant (FCM), commodity pool operator (CPO), commodity trading adviser (CTA), or an associated person of an FCM, CPO, or CTA. Because BOK Financial Securities, Inc. (BOKFS) is a dually-registered investment adviser and broker-dealer, many BOK Financial Advisors' (BOKFA) advisers are also registered broker-dealer representatives of BOKFS.

Item 5. Additional Compensation

Part 2B of Form ADV:

BOK Financial Advisors Brochure Supplement

Your adviser may earn commissions, bonuses or other compensation, including bonuses based, at least in part, on the sale of securities or other compensation based on the sale of securities or other investment products, as a broker-dealer representative. Your adviser may earn distribution or service fees from the sale of mutual funds, as well as, bonuses or other compensation based on the number or amount of client referrals, or new accounts, and sales awards and other prizes. This practice presents a conflict of interest and gives your adviser an incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation received, rather than on a client's needs. BOKFA has account review procedures designed and implemented to ensure that all clients are treated fairly and equitably, and to prevent this conflict from influencing investment selection.

Item 6. Supervision

BOKFA has established and maintains a system to supervise the activities of each advisory representative, which is designed to achieve compliance with applicable securities laws, regulations, and rules. This supervisory system includes the assignment of each advisory representative to a supervisor who is responsible for supervising that person's activities. Supervisors are responsible for monitoring the advice that advisory representatives provide to their clients. Advisory representatives meet with their clients at least once a year to review the client's investments, financial condition, and goals and objectives. Clients sign an annual review report documenting the annual review, and this document is further reviewed by the supervisor and the compliance department. Account anomalies are discussed by management and the advisory representative.
